Question

Our team saw that the award range is from $150,000 - $900,000 and that the target period of performance is one year (October 1, 2024 – September 30, 2025). However, we also noticed that additional funding support for up to 24 months of programming may be awarded after the initial funding period. Our question is whether the $150,000 - $900,000 award is a per year award (and that funding will be repeated upon satisfactory performance) or will need to be divided by up to 3 years.

Response

Applicants proposals and budget should reflect a one year period of performance. Proposed budgets should be within the funding range of $150,000 - $900,000 for the year of performance. While applicants should submit only a one-year proposal, applicants can include information about anticipated changes in future years of the program if they were to be funded. There is no guarantee of an extension in the period of performance beyond September 30, 2025. ICJIA will evaluate award extensions as needed based upon the amount and availability of funds and satisfactory performance.
